

Title	Social markers of acculturation : building a shared understanding in Japan
Sub Title
Author	Komisarof, Adam
Publisher	慶應義塾大学
Publication year	2019
Jtitle	学事振興資金研究成果実績報告書 (2018.)
JaLC DOI
Abstract	Social Markers of Acculturation: Building a Shared Understanding in Japan Using the Keio Grant for the Development of Academic Research, my research about Social Markers of Acculturation ("SMA") has advanced in two ways: 1. First, I completed an academic paper about which SMA Japanese people expect immigrants to master to be socially accepted in Japanese society and workplaces. 2. Second, I could develop and test a quantitative measure of acceptance in Japanese society and workplaces for migrants in Japan. For #1 above, I completed a paper, "Constructing Who Can Be Japanese: A Study of Social Markers of Acceptance in Japan" which is now being reviewed for publication in an international journal. I presented this research at the International Association for Cross-Cultural Psychology's 24th International Congress, held at the University of Guelph in Guelph, Canada (July 2, 2018). This paper was delivered as part of a symposium, for which I was the chairperson, entitled, "Social Markers of Acculturation: The Accessibility and Process of Gaining Host Culture Acceptance for Immigrants in Five Nations." Based on the strength of this research, I have been invited to serve as the co-editor of a special edition of the International Journal of Intercultural Relations (published by Elsevier) to be published sometime in 2019, which will be devoted to research related to social markers of acceptance for immigrant populations around the world. For #2 above, I finished a paper, "A New Framework of Workplace Acculturation: The Need to Belong and Constructing Ontological Interpretive Spaces," which was accepted for publication in the journal Intercultural Communication for the July, 2018 issue. I presented this research at Ritsumeikan University's College of Business Administration (November 1, 2018) in a talk entitled, "National Group and Organizational Belonging: A New Framework for Successful Intercultural Communication in Business." Also, I recruited participants for a quantitative study to establish the validity and reliability of a survey designed to measure the two dimensions in my theoretical framework. Approximately 200 people have taken the survey so far, and I am continuing to recruit new participants to increase the reliability of the survey results. I have decided to use all of my budget of 200,000 yen to pay for the IACCP 24th International Congress at Guelph University because the costs of attending the conference exceeded the amount of this Keio Grant for the Development of Academic Research.
Notes
Genre	Research Paper
URL	https://koara.lib.keio.ac.jp/xoonips/modules/xoonips/detail.php?koara_id=2018000005-20180293

慶應義塾大学学術情報リポジトリ(KOARA)に掲載されているコンテンツの著作権は、それぞれの著作者、学会または出版社/発行者に帰属し、その権利は著作権法によって保護されています。引用にあたっては、著作権法を遵守してご利用ください。

The copyrights of content available on the Keio Associated Repository of Academic resources (KOARA) belong to the respective authors, academic societies, or publishers/issuers, and these rights are protected by the Japanese Copyright Act. When quoting the content, please follow the Japanese copyright act.

研究代表者	所属	文学部	職名	教授	補助額	200（B）千円
	氏名	コミサロフ アダム	氏名（英語）	Adam Komisarof
研究課題（日本語）
Social Markers of Acculturation: Building a Shared Understanding in Japan
研究課題（英訳）
Social Markers of Acculturation: Building a Shared Understanding in Japan
1. 研究成果実績の概要
英文参照
2. 研究成果実績の概要（英訳）
Social Markers of Acculturation: Building a Shared Understanding in Japan
Using the Keio Grant for the Development of Academic Research, my research about Social Markers of Acculturation (“SMA”) has advanced in two ways: 1. First, I completed an academic paper about which SMA Japanese people expect immigrants to master to be socially accepted in Japanese society and workplaces. 2. Second, I could develop and test a quantitative measure of acceptance in Japanese society and workplaces for migrants in Japan. For #1 above, I completed a paper, “Constructing Who Can Be Japanese: A Study of Social Markers of Acceptance in Japan” which is now being reviewed for publication in an international journal. I presented this research at the International Association for Cross-Cultural Psychology’s 24th International Congress, held at the University of Guelph in Guelph, Canada (July 2, 2018). This paper was delivered as part of a symposium, for which I was the chairperson, entitled, “Social Markers of Acculturation: The Accessibility and Process of Gaining Host Culture Acceptance for Immigrants in Five Nations.” Based on the strength of this research, I have been invited to serve as the co-editor of a special edition of the International Journal of Intercultural Relations (published by Elsevier) to be published sometime in 2019, which will be devoted to research related to social markers of acceptance for immigrant populations around the world. For #2 above, I finished a paper, “A New Framework of Workplace Acculturation: The Need to Belong and Constructing Ontological Interpretive Spaces,” which was accepted for publication in the journal Intercultural Communication for the July, 2018 issue. I presented this research at Ritsumeikan University’s College of Business Administration (November 1, 2018) in a talk entitled, “National Group and Organizational Belonging: A New Framework for Successful Intercultural Communication in Business.” Also, I recruited participants for a quantitative study to establish the validity and reliability of a survey designed to measure the two dimensions in my theoretical framework. Approximately 200 people have taken the survey so far, and I am continuing to recruit new participants to increase the reliability of the survey results. I have decided to use all of my budget of 200,000 yen to pay for the IACCP 24th International Congress at Guelph University because the costs of attending the conference exceeded the amount of this Keio Grant for the Development of Academic Research.
3. 本研究課題に関する発表
発表者氏名 (著者・講演者)	発表課題名 (著書名・演題)	発表学術誌名 (著書発行所・講演学会)	学術誌発行年月 (著書発行年月・講演年月)
Adam Komisarof	A New Framework of Workplace Acculturation: The Need to Belong and Constructing Ontological Interpretive Spaces”	Journal of Intercultural Communication (Society for Intercultural Education, Training, and Research—SIETAR)	July, 2018
Adam Komisarof	Constructing Who is Japanese: A Study of Social Markers of Acceptance in Japan	International Association for Cross-Cultural Psychology 24th International Congress	July 2, 2018
Adam Komisarof	National Group and Organizational Belonging: A New Framework for Successful Intercultural Communication in Business	Ritsumeikan University, College of Business Administration	November 1, 2018			