The Origin and Cause of Keio University

Kazuyoshi Nakayama

Historical events and things have their origin and cause. Historians always wish to know them.

Keio University was founded in 1858; it has the honourable history of a century as one of the oldest schools in modern Japan.

The present thesis aims to inquire into how it was established one hundred years ago, when Japan opened her door to the European countries, and how it became what it is in the middle of the twentieth century in which we live.
